Citizens' Voices to Be Measured Against Government Promises at SONA 2026
Johannesburg, South Africa — As the nation prepares for the State of the Nation Address (SONA) 2026, MandateMeter, a civic accountability platform, will launch its Promise Tracker to monitor government commitments in real time.

MandateMeter's Report Card polls, already gathering citizen expectations on key issues such as education, jobs, corruption, and service delivery, will be published ahead of the speech. During SONA, the platform will track each promise made by government leaders, creating a transparent record that citizens can revisit throughout the year.

Key Features for SONA 2026

- Citizen Expectation Polls: Live dashboards capturing what South Africans want addressed.
- Promise Tracker: Real-time monitoring of commitments during the speech.
- Advocacy Windows: Dedicated spaces for marginalized voices, including widows and youth, to share their stories as civic evidence.

Why It Matters

SONA is not only a political event—it is a national moment of accountability. MandateMeter bridges the gap between citizen expectations and government delivery, offering a modular civic dashboard that strengthens democracy through transparency and participation.
